HAD SECOND "OPENING," BUT NOT AS PER AD

That it pays to advertise is the belief of H. Sigerman, tailor, 1225 Florida street, but results depend entirely on who reads your ads.

For several days Sigerman had advertised that his grand opening of clothing at his shop on Florida street would be held Monday, May 12. He said nothing about Tuesday, the 13th. The opening came off as scheduled Monday. Another opening came at 3:30 o'clock Tuesday morning when burglars smashed in the glass of both display windows at the front of Sigerman's shop. When they departed there was not enough goods left to make much of a showing.

MUST RAISE $300,000 IN ONE WEEK FROM LOCAL METHODISTS

JOSEPH A. FOWLER,
Campaign Director for the Memphis District.

The Methodist church, in celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of American Methodist missions, has inaugurated the most ambitious program ever attempted by a religious organization since the dawn of the Christian era.

Rivalry Is Keen For Color Company In R. O. T. C. Drill

BY ROBERT W. HALL.

Keen rivalry has developed in the ranks of the 10 local companies of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps, Junior division, composed of high school cadets in the competitive drill which will be held this week. To the company making the best showing will be awarded the honor of being designated the color company in khaki uniforms, but they do not think for a moment that they are members of the Junior division R. O. T. C.

In the spring of 1917 there was organized a cadet company known as Company A, Central high school cadets. The company was drilled under Sgt. Henry T. King, of the Memphis recruiting station. Later, as members were recruited another company was organized, known as Company B. At the beginning of the fall term of 1918 a third company was organized. These companies were equipped with cadet uniforms and wooden rifles, but without a competent person to take charge of the companies. In a few weeks one was found in the person of Austin Carey.

At the beginning of the spring term of 1919, through the efforts of Mr. Carey and Prof. Wharton S. Jones, Central high and Crockett Vocational high together were made a unit of the Junior division, R. O. T. C. Eight companies were organized at Central high and two at Vocational. The companies are divided into battalions. At Central high there are two battalions under Capt. H. S. Spragins, Jr., and at Vocational there is one battalion under Capt. Major Fledger. Col. A. S. Frost and Capt. Coleman D. Garth, Jr., are in charge of the military work at both schools.

The following are the cadet-captains at Central high: George Van Gerbig, Edward D. Hurlburt, Herbert Brane, J. E. Nobey, J. C. Palmer, Soulewood, Julien Williams, Jesse F. Houck Jr., Carl Graves, Capt. Louis M. Rosenthal, Adjutant-Captains Johnson and Spaulding are the captains of the companies of the Vocational high.

Red Cross To Give Luncheon To Boys Of Ambulance Unit

The 58 Memphians in Ambulance company No. 166, of the 115th sanitary train, Rainbow division, will be welcomed home Wednesday morning by the Red Cross with an elaborate luncheon at the Hotel Chilca. The members of the ambulance men, or their nearest living relatives, are invited to attend the luncheon. All members of the Rainbow division now in Memphis are urged to participate in the parade which will precede the luncheon.

The contingent will arrive at 11:15 o'clock at the Union depot from Port Ogleshorpe and will parade through the city under the command of Capt. J. R. Drake, of Memphis, winding up at the Chilca for luncheon. It is probable the Boy Scouts' rifle and drum corps, Layne & Fowler and the Shrine band will march with the company. Maj. P. A. Perkins, who left here as commander of the unit, will return Wednesday.

A Chamber of Commerce delegation headed by L. J. Moore, of the entertainment committee, will meet the boys at the depot. The ambulance company left Memphis June 7, 1917, with 22 boys from the city or the immediate territory, but a number of these were transferred to other units and nine died in France. Maj. Perkins left as a captain and Capt. Drake as a lieutenant. The unit served in the heavy fighting in the Toul sector and later went into Germany in the army of occupation, being the first and only exclusively Memphis unit to enter Germany.

Relatives (one to each boy) who want to dine with the boys must register Tuesday at Red Cross headquarters at Second street and Court avenue, or at the canteen room at Union depot, Calhoun avenue and Eastburn boulevard. One member of the returning unit, Fitzhugh Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Lee, 402 Alabama avenue, has been honored by his comrades of the Rainbow division with the presidency of the Tennessee branch of the National club, which was organized by the volunteers of that division representing 27 states. His brother Robert was elected treasurer.

The line of march will be from the Union depot to Main and north on Main to Adams, thence east on Adams to Second, south on Second to Gayoso, and then west to Main street, thence to the Hotel Chilca.

CLEAN SWEEP MADE.
Thieves visited the henhouse at the home of Mrs. Walter Yager, 27 North Somerville street, before dawn Monday and without arousing a squawk from a single bird, got away with every chicken on the roost.

Anna Case Artist
Beautiful Case Supreme

And Excellent Supporting Cast, in

"The Hidden Truth"

This is the beautiful grand opera star herself, whom all Memphis will want to see on the screen. Miss Case appeared here recently in recital and numbers her admirers by the thousands.

Can you imagine the beautiful and artistic Anna Case as a barmaid in a small Western town surrounded by the hardy and uncouth figures of a mining camp? But through a turn of affairs she is soon lifted from this environment and placed in the center of New York's social whirl, where she reigns supreme, and when a romance, begun in the West under unusual circumstances, is brought to a happy conclusion. Miss Case will be seen in some of fashion's latest creations, and the play is sumptuously staged.

Forsdick Appointed To Aid Dr. Spragins At First Methodist

At a meeting of the board of stewards of the First Methodist church Monday night J. R. Forsdick, now with the army Y. M. C. A. at Fort Ogleshorpe, was elected assistant to the pastor, the Rev. H. S. Spragins, D.D.

Mr. Forsdick came to this country from London and has been a resident of Memphis for about 18 years. He has always been very active in church work, having devoted practically all of his spare time to the activities of the local Y. M. C. A. and the young men of the First church. He organized the Forsdick young men's Bible class about 14 years ago, a class from which 132 men out of a membership of 157 went into military service during the war.

In February, 1918, he entered the Y. M. C. A. work and was stationed at Park field for about six months. His work there was so successful that he was advanced to a more responsible position at Fort Ogleshorpe, where he is now located in Y. M. C. A. work at the general hospital.

A number of good positions in city association work have been offered to Mr. Forsdick, but he preferred to return to Memphis, where he has already victoriously established his own field of religious endeavor.

The First Methodist church has a membership of more than 1,800, and the rapidly expanding activities of the church make the services of an assistant to the pastor essential. Mr. Forsdick's attention will be directed especially toward the young men's work of the church, the Sunday school and the Boy Scouts movement.

He will enter upon his new work as soon as his release from the Y. M. C. A. work can be obtained, about June 15.

DEAD REMEMBERED.

MARIANNA, Ark., May 13. (Spt.)—Appropriate memorial exercises for the Confederate dead were held in the Methodist church of this city Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The address of the afternoon was delivered by Gov. C. H. Brough and was a stirring and appealing effort.

HUNT NEGRO BANDIT.

Police and de-actives are looking for the negro bandit who swung a black jack on the head of W. L. Harris, 238 Washington avenue and took $25 from Harris' pockets as he lay senseless on the sidewalk. Harris was on his way home Sunday night when the negro stepped from the shadow of a building on Washington avenue, near Fourth street. He saw the negro swing for his head but could not do so in time.

Vacation Travel

The United States Railroad Administration
Removes all Restrictions

ONE year ago, under the pressure of war necessities, the public was requested to refrain from all unnecessary travel, and under the stress of war conditions, the public was necessarily subjected to a great deal of inconvenience when it did have to travel.

Now the war necessity is passed and it is the settled policy of the Railroad Administration to do everything reasonably within its power to facilitate passenger travel and to make it more attractive.

In furtherance of this policy, the Railroad Administration is entering upon a moderate program of advertising, to remind the people of the extraordinary opportunities for sight-seeing and for pleasure-seeking which our country affords—the National Parks, the seashores, the lakes, the mountains, the woods, and the many places of historic interest.

The vacation season is approaching, and the time is at hand to plan for a change of scene, for rest and recreation. It will be the effort of the Railroad Administration to aid in such planning and to make your travel arrangements convenient and satisfying.

The staff of the United States Railroad Administration will be glad to furnish illustrated booklets and provide necessary information as to fares, train service, etc. Such information may be obtained from the local Ticket Agent or the nearest Consolidated Ticket Office, or by addressing the Official Travel Information Bureau at 143 Liberty Street, New York; or 646 Transportation Building, Chicago; or 602 Healy Building, Atlanta, Georgia.

Every official and employee of the United States Railroad Administration is a public servant. Call on them freely.
